

KOHLI FOUNDATION

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Connect

The Connect funding format is part of the early-career research support program of the Kohli Foundation for Sociology. It specifically supports events and structured exchange formats that

- support academic qualification and profile development,
- enable the further development of independent research projects at a high academic level,
- promote integration into established research contexts and institutions,
- strengthen networking among early-career researchers as well as with renowned sociologists.

Eligible for funding are, for example, academic schools (spring, summer, etc.), mentoring and qualification events, workshops, retreats, or comparable formats with a clear focus on early-career support and academic development.

To apply, please send a brief description of the planned event – including how it aligns with the grant format (target audience, focus) – along with a rough cost estimate in a single PDF document (maximum 2 pages total) via email to the following address: info@kohlifoundation.eu.

Applications may be submitted on an ongoing basis and will be considered until the annual budget has been exhausted.

Detailed information on funding criteria, eligible costs, and formal application requirements can be found in the funding guidelines available on the foundation's website: www.kohlifoundation.eu
